Instinet Incorporated and its subsidiaries located in the United States (collectively “Instinet,” “we,” or “us”) value the information entrusted to us. As used in this Privacy Policy (“Policy”), the term “Corporate Group Websites” refer to www.instinet.com.

This Policy describes how we, in the United States, collect, use, and disclose Personal Information through (i) our Corporate Group Websites, (ii) visits to our offices, (iii) attendance or registration for our in-person or virtual events, (iv) an existing or contemplated business relationship with our clients (if no other policy is not provided), and (v) other online and offline business interactions you have with us (collectively, the “Services”). This policy does not apply to Instinet employees (current employees or prospective employees) or individual contractors, who should instead review the “Employee, Job Applicant, and Contractor Privacy Policy” that may be found on the same web page as this Policy.

If you, or an organization you represent, are provided with a separate privacy policy in connection with an event or with the business or professional relationship with us. Such policies will control in the event of conflict with this Policy.

By using our Services, you are agreeing to the terms of this Policy.

1.0. HOW WE USE PERSONAL INFORMATION

“Personal Information” is information that identifies, relates to, or could reasonably be linked with a particular individual. This section describes how we may use the categories of Personal Information detailed in the “Collection and Disclosure of Personal Information” section below. The details of our collection and disclosure of Personal Information are found in the next sections.

We use Personal Information in accordance with applicable laws:

4.0. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR CALIFORNIA RESIDENTS

Pursuant to the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (collectively, the “CCPA”), we are providing the following additional details regarding the Personal Information that we collect, use, and disclose about California residents. Under the CCPA, “Personal Information” is information that identifies, relates to, or could reasonably be linked with a particular California resident or household.

We do not “sell” or “share” your Personal Information, including your Sensitive Personal Information, as defined under the CCPA. We have not engaged in such activities in the 12 months preceding the date this Policy was last updated. Without limiting the foregoing, we do not “sell” or “share” the Personal Information, including the Sensitive Personal Information, of minors under 16 years of age.

4.1. Retention Period

We retain Personal Information for as long as needed or permitted in light of the purpose(s) for which it was collected. The criteria used to determine our retention periods include:

- The length of time we have an ongoing relationship with you and provide services to you (for example, for as long as you have an account with us or keep using our services) and the length of time thereafter during which we may have a legitimate need to reference your Personal Information to address issues that may arise;
- Whether there is a legal obligation to which we are subject (for example, certain laws require us to keep records of your transactions for a certain period of time before we can delete them); or
- Whether retention is advisable in light of our legal position (such as in regard to applicable statutes of limitations, litigation or regulatory investigations).

4.2. Individual Rights and Requests

If you are a California resident, you may make the following requests:

1. You may request that we disclose to you the following information:
 - a. The categories of Personal Information we collected about you and the categories of sources from which we collected such Personal Information;
 - b. The business or commercial purpose for collecting Personal Information about you; and
 - c. The categories of Personal Information about you that we otherwise disclosed, and the categories of third parties to whom we disclosed such Personal Information (if applicable).
2. You may request to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information.
3. You may request to have your Personal Information deleted.
4. You may request to receive the specific pieces of your Personal Information, including a copy of the Personal Information you provided to us in a portable format.

You have the right to be free from unlawful discrimination for exercising your rights under the CCPA.

To make a request, please contact us at Americasprivacy@nomura.com or (833) 770-4090. We will verify and respond to your request consistent with applicable law, taking into account the type and sensitivity of the Personal Information subject to the request. We may need to request additional Personal Information from you, such as mailing address, telephone number and/or email address, in order to verify your identity and protect against fraudulent requests. If you maintain a password-protected account with us, we may verify your identity through our existing authentication practices for your account and require you to re-authenticate yourself before disclosing or deleting your Personal Information. If you make a deletion request, we may ask you to verify your request before we delete your Personal Information.

California law also gives residents of California the right, under certain circumstances, to request information from us regarding the manner in which we share certain categories of Personal Information with third parties for their direct marketing purposes. To request such information, please contact using the contact information provided in the “Questions and Comments” section, below.

4.3. Authorized Agents

If an agent would like to make a request on your behalf as permitted by applicable law, the agent may use the submission methods noted in the section entitled “Individual Rights and Requests.” As part of our verification process, we may request that the agent provide, as applicable, proof concerning their status as an authorized agent. In addition, we may require that you verify your identity as described in the section entitled “Individual Requests” or confirm that you provided the agent permission to submit the request.

4.4. De-Identified Information

Where we maintain or use de-identified information, we will continue to maintain and use the de-identified information only in a de-identified fashion and will not attempt to re-identify the information.

5.0. COOKIES AND THIRD PARTY ANALYTICS

Cookies are pieces of information stored directly on your computer. Cookies allow us to collect such information as browser type, time spent on the Services, pages visited, language preferences, and traffic data. We use the information for security purposes, to facilitate navigation, to display information more effectively, and to personalize your experience. We also gather statistical information about use of the Services in order to continually improve their design and functionality, understand how they are used, and assist us with resolving questions regarding them. We do not currently respond to browser do-not-track signals. If you do not want information collected through the use of cookies, most browsers allow you to automatically decline cookies or be given the choice of declining or accepting particular cookies from a particular website. You may also wish to refer to <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies/index.html>. If, however, you do not accept cookies, you may experience some inconvenience in your use of the Services.

We may work with certain third parties to collect Personal Information and to engage in analytics, auditing, research, and reporting. These third parties may use tracking mechanisms such as web logs and pixel tags, and they may set and access cookies on your computer or device. In particular our site uses Google Analytics to collect and analyze certain information about the website’s visitors. This service may also collect information regarding the use of other websites, apps, and online services. Information regarding Google’s practices with Google Analytics can be found in Google’s privacy policy at <http://www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners> and choices for “opt-out” opting out are described at <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

6.0. MARKETING EMAILS

If you no longer want to receive marketing emails from us on a going-forward basis, you may opt-out by clicking the “unsubscribe” link at the bottom of each such email. If you opt out, we may still send you important administrative messages, from which you cannot opt out.”

7.0. JURISDICTION AND CROSS-BORDER TRANSFER

We are located in the United States. We may store and process your Personal Information in any country where we have facilities or in which we engage service providers. By using our Services, you understand that your information will be transferred to countries outside of your country of residence, including the United States, which may have data protection rules that are different from those of your country.

8.0. THIRD-PARTY SERVICES

This Policy does not address, and we are not responsible for, the privacy, information, or other practices of any third parties, including any third party operating a website or service to which the Services link. The inclusion of a link on the Services does not imply our endorsement of the linked site or service.

9.0. CHILDREN'S PRIVACY

Our Corporate Group Websites and other services are not directed to individuals under the age of 13, and we do not knowingly collect Personal Information from individuals under 13.

10.0. CHANGES TO THIS POLICY

The "Last Updated" legend at the top of this Policy indicates when this Policy was last revised. Any changes will become effective when we post the revised Policy at <https://www.instinet.com/privacy-policy>.

11.0. QUESTIONS OR COMMENTS

If you have any questions or comments regarding our privacy practices or this Policy, please contact us by email at Americasprivacy@nomura.com or by mail at: c/o Legal and Compliance Department, Instinet, LLC, 309 West 49th Street, New York, NY 10019.
